Mrs. Edna Willis Blames Death Attempt on Spirit of Meanness.

"I took poison to spite myself," said Mrs. Edna Willis, twenty-one, of 1700 Second street northwest, today. She is well on the road to recovery at Emergency Hospital, despite her act.

Mrs. Willis said today she had returned to her home from a wedding party in Alexandria, Va., last night when she suddenly was taken with a "fit of meanness" and grabbed a bottle of bichloride of mercury tablets to swallow its contents.

Her husband, a hacker, is alleged to have knocked the bottle from her hand before she succeeded in swallowing a dose sufficient to kill her.

The woman would give no other reason for her act, except to say she was "angry with herself." She claims to have had no trouble with anyone.

LOVE SONG OUT OF PITCH, MOVIE
STAR NOW SUES

Composer-Husband's Efforts Brought Only Discord in Home, She Says.

By Cosmopolitan News Service. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Ike Kornblum has enjoyed some success in New York and Los Angeles as a composer of harmony but in his short span of married life with Carmel Myers, motion picture star, she says he created only discord.

But they are still friends, she hastens to add. Miss Myers, daughter of the late Rabbi Myers, began her career as a writer, charging her lawyer-husband with desertion.

All Out of Harmony.

"Call it temperament, diversity of tastes, difference of dispositions, anything you like—yet the fact remains that artists are destined to be ill-mated if their realms of thought and endeavor are unlike," Miss Myers said today.

"Our love song was out of pitch, that was all.

"There'd be days when I'd come from the studio weary from the depiction of a character from the world of fantasy. I wanted to get back to the life of realities, where humans act but their own true selves.

"Often I would find my husband seated at his piano, dreaming out as it were, a musical creation. A masterpiece, no doubt, but it would clash with my own emotion.

"And when I found it impossible to be in an appreciative frame of mind, it was the fault of neither of us—just an unavoidable set of circumstances. I was in my world, he was in his. And nothing could change it.

"We separated amicably after a year. We felt we had reached the turn of the road.

Reconciliation Fails.

"That same road led to a reunion some time later. A score of his was attracting wide attention in a musical comedy in the east and my picture was in favor. Mutual admiration and hopes for a solution of our difficulties brought a reconciliation.

"But last May we decided that it just couldn't be; our arts, our lives were too far removed from similarity. So we separated again and that is all that can be said.

"We still admire each other, strange as that may seem. The affection will probably continue through life. I wish him much happiness in his musical and legal work. I know he will make an ideal husband for some other girl. And I wish him luck."

RUM RUNNERS IN PLANES ARE GROWING RICH

U. S. May Be Forced to Get "Dry" Aircraft to Combat Aviator Bootleggers.

By BEN BODEC.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—An air plane high up near the clouds is singing its droning flight. The air cruiser wavers lower and lower as if sailing on the crest of an enormous air-wave.

Suddenly in the distant horizon a fleet of airplanes appear, approaching the lone plane in squadron formation.

As the concerted burring of the flock of machines comes closer the lone airplane seems to have increased its flight.

A flash of fire and a gust of smoke emerges from the machine at the head of the squadron. Other flashes of fire and gusts of smoke from the other planes follow in quick succession.

The lone plane fleeing in mad pursuit volplanes, dives, somersaults and seems to be on the verge of hurling to earth. It is soon surrounded by the pursuing planes.

In the meantime the fugitive air cruiser is creating overboard its load of boxes, packages and bottles. The squadron circles closer and closer about its quarry until the air runner wavers haltingly as a token of surrender.

Not far distant is the day when the reader will pick up his newspaper and read of such an account, as the foregoing, of a thrilling air battle between prohibition enforcement officers and airplane bootleggers.

John D. Appleby, head of the dry agents in New York State and New Jersey told of a move that he is now contemplating to put into commission an airplane unit for combatting the airplane bootleggers traffic.

Investigative, he said, has led him to believe that these air runners were deriving millions of dollars profits through this method of transportation. Information has been sent into the hands of Federal agents.

Mr. Appleby said, that at least a dozen planes are making daily visits from a point on Long Island across the border into Canada, returning with from forty to fifty cases of the highest quality liquor.

Five hundred dollars and over are paid air pilots for each trip, the official said.

TWO CLUES BEING PROBED IN LOS ANGELES SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Two new angles of investigation were begun today by the police into the mysterious shooting to death last week of Oesterreich, wealthy Milwaukee and Los Angeles manufacturer.

One line of inquiry extends to the cattle country of Argentina. Reports are to the effect that Oesterreich was once interested in a large cattle deal and that murderous gangster had him grow out of that transaction.

The second line of development is represented by the arrival here of Harry Vose from Milwaukee. It is understood he had been in the employ of Oesterreich for many years and the police think he may be able to furnish a new clue to the slayer.

ASK MACHINE GUNS TO COMBAT GUN RUNNERS

HONOLULU, Aug. 28.—Basing their plea on the increasing activities of opium runners in Hawaiian waters, members of several trans-Pacific passenger steamers have taken preliminary steps to obtain official authority to equip their vessels with machine guns with which to keep all suspicious craft at a distance, while approaching or departing from Honolulu.

During the last few months opium of an estimated value of more than $100,000 is said to have been landed at Honolulu from trans-Pacific vessels. Small power boats, manned and run by Orientals, are thought to be the means of transportation used by the smugglers in getting their contraband ashore.

It is understood that the request will be incorporated in a formal petition and forwarded to Washington.

BATHING SUIT STYLES?

HA! HA! IMPOSSIBLE!

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Mme. Lucienne Dreesouth, a hat designer for a Fifth Avenue firm, returned to the United States on the Chicago bringing with her the information that bathing suits at Deauville, the famous French watering place, do not need designing, because there is not enough material in them to make a design.

"They would never pass the beach censors here," she said. "They are just something; that's all."
